About Stephanie

Stephanie is a native New Mexican and lifelong educator who has worked both abroad and in Northern New Mexico.

Growing up in Silver City, Stephanie went to Barnard College, Columbia University in New York and followed in her father's footsteps and became a teacher.

Stephanie is committed to making sure our communities are prepared and keeping pace for the changes ahead. She's a mom and lives in White Rock with her daughters and husband.

District 43: It's Time for a Change!

New Mexico House District 43 represents Los Alamos and parts of Sandoval and Santa Fe counties. Stephanie is running in a winnable district against 20-year Republican incumbent Jeannette Wallace.

It's time for forward thinking leadership. Wallace has voted against renewable energy programs, healthcare benefits for small business and important education programs like funding for Pre-K.

"I will take a different approach. We're a community of discoveries--and possibilities!" –

Stephanie's Race

Stephanie is running a professional campaign and has hired Neri Holguin to manage her campaign. She's meeting voters on the doors and fundraising aggressively.
