

Join us for the Albuquerque stop on the National VETERANS FOR AMERICAN POWER TOUR

www.operationfree.net/on-the-bus/

Sponsored by Operation Free

“As Veterans, we call on Congress and the administration to enact strong climate and energy legislation and support US efforts to lead the world in a global response.”

www.operationfree.net/home/

WHAT: Veterans of the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan are touring the country, speaking about how we can increase our energy independence and strengthen our national security by transitioning to clean, domestic sources of energy.

WHEN: Sunday, January 31, 2010 1:00-2:00pm

WHERE: VFW Post 401, 2011 Girard Boulevard SE / Albuquerque, NM 87106-3144

WHO: The national tour is sponsored by Operation Free, a coalition of veterans and national security organizations that recognize that climate change and our dependence on fossil fuels pose serious threats to US national security.

For questions or more information, please contact Kim McMurray, Clean Energy Works (505)254-4819.

“There's no fight more important than putting America in control of its own future by creating clean energy that's produced right here in America. That's why we're traveling the country - and coming to your town - to spread the message, rally supporters, and ultimately strengthen American security.”
